

Self-Assessment Form

Name: _____

Paper title: _____

Answer the questions briefly but specifically. When you have finished filling out the form, attach it to your essay before you hand it in.

1. Without looking at the assignment sheet, paraphrase the assignment for this essay.
2. Paraphrase the main point of your paper – what interpretation are you trying convey to your audience?
3. Identify one strategy of development (narration; illustration/example; definition; division/classification; causation/process; comparison/contrast; analogy) that you used in this paper and explain why you choose it and how successful it is.
4. Talk about your own treatment of actual visual rhetoric (the placement and discussion of images) in your essay. Where did you place them? How did you work them into your argument? What was the rhetorical strategy behind these decisions?
5. Talk about your use of rhetoric appeals in your own writing of this essay. Did you rely primarily on one type of appeal? Where did you rely on logos? Pathos? Ethos?
6. Place a star in the margin next to the paragraph you are most proud of. Explain its strengths here.
7. Place an X in the margin beside a paragraph you are less satisfied with. Explain below why it is problematic.
8. Free-write for a few minutes about the process of writing this paper. Was it easy to write? What changes did you make during revision? Are you overall pleased with the results? Use the back of this sheet if necessary.
