Contents

Preface xiii

PART I

Getting Started 1

CHAPTER 1

Introduction: Thinking, Reading, and Writing 3

- Critical Thinking and Writing 3
- Critical Reading and Writing 4
- Critical Reading Phases 6

PART II

Writing College Essays 17

CHAPTER 2

Preparing to Write an Essay 19

- Writing and Thinking 19
  - Writing Sharpens Critical Thinking 19
  - Writing Provides a Record of Thinking 20
  - Levels of Thinking 20
- Assess the Writing Situation 21
  - Determine an Assignment’s Length and Time Limit 21
  - Clarify the Purpose of the Assignment 21
  - Use Common Information Sources 24
  - Picture a Reader 24
- Employ Common Essay Conventions 26
  - Have a Dominant Purpose 26

CHAPTER 3

The Composing Process: Prewriting and Informal Planning 32

- A Student’s Composing Process 33
  - Assessment of the Writing Situation 36
- Use Prewriting Techniques to Explore an Assignment 38
  - Listing 38
  - Freewriting 39
  - Clustering 39
  - Asking Questions 41
  - Consulting 41
- Identify and Limit a Subject 42
- Compose a Purpose Statement 43
- A Student’s Prewriting Activities 44
  - Prewriting Activities at Work 44
  - Formulating a Purpose Statement 48
  - Developing an Informal Plan 48

CHAPTER 4

Writing a Thesis Statement and a Formal Plan 53

- Write an Effective Thesis Statement 53
  - Make a Promise 54
  - Use Precise Language 55
CHAPTER 8
Preparing to Submit an Essay

Proofread Your Revised Draft 125
- Proofread for Consistent Diction 125
- Proofread for Sentence Flow and Variety 126
- A Student Proofreads Her Revised Draft 127

Prepare the Final Draft Using Standard Manuscript Form 131
- Materials 131
- Margins 131
- Indentation 132
- Pagination 132
- Identification 132
- Title 132
- A Student’s Final Draft 132
- Activities 136

REP PART III
Development Patterns 137

CHAPTER 9
Description: Rendering Experience 139

Thinking by Description 139
- A Student Essay Developed by Description 140

Writing an Essay Developed by Description 143
- Provide Descriptive Detail 144
- Distinguish Objective from Subjective Description 146
- Create a Dominant Impression 148
- Consider Arrangement of Details 149
- Use Transitions 150

Revising Descriptive Paragraphs 151
- Guidelines for Writing Descriptive Essays 152
- Suggestions for Descriptive Essays 152

CHAPTER 10
Narration: Connecting Events 156

Thinking by Narration 156
- A Student Essay Developed by Narration 158

Writing an Essay Developed by Narration 162
- Create a Narrative Effect 162
- Follow a Narrative Structure 164
- Use Scene and Summary 165
- Establish Point of View 167
- Follow Chronological or Psychological Time 168
- Use Transitions 170

Revising Narrative Paragraphs 170
- Guidelines for Writing Narrative Essays 171
- Suggestions for Narrative Essays 171

CHAPTER 11
Examples: Illustrating Experience 174

Thinking by Examples 174
- A Student Essay Developed by Examples 175

Writing an Essay Developed by Examples 179
- Use a Variety of Examples 179
- Select Examples with Care 180
Use Examples with Purpose 180
Use Transitions 185
Revising Examples Paragraphs 185
- Guidelines for Writing Examples Essays 187
- Suggestions for Examples Essays 187

CHAPTER 12
Comparison: Showing Similarities and Differences 190

Thinking by Comparison 190
A Student Essay Developed by Comparison 190
Writing an Essay Developed by Comparison 193
- Select Appropriate Subjects for Comparison 194
- Establish the Comparison Early 195
- Decide on the Appropriate Arrangement 196
- Use Transitions 198
Revising Comparison Paragraphs 199
- Guidelines for Writing Comparison Essays 200
- Suggestions for Comparison Essays 200

CHAPTER 13
Cause and Effect: Exploring Reasons and Results 203

Thinking by Cause and Effect 203
A Student Essay Developed by Cause and Effect 204
Writing an Essay Developed by Cause and Effect 207
Avoid Reasoning Errors 209
Distinguish Causes and Effects 210
Use Transitions 215
Revising Cause and Effect Paragraphs 216
- Guidelines for Writing Cause and Effect Essays 217
- Suggestions for Cause and Effect Essays 217

CHAPTER 14
Process Analysis: Explaining Step by Step 222

Thinking by Process Analysis 222
A Student Essay Developed by Process Analysis 223
Writing an Essay Developed by Process Analysis 225
- Determine the Appropriate Type of Analysis 226
- Consider the Reader's Level of Knowledge 229
- Use Transitions 229
Revising Process Analysis Paragraphs 230
- Guidelines for Writing Process Analysis Essays 231
- Suggestions for Process Analysis Essays 231

CHAPTER 15
Classification and Division: Analyzing and Arranging Experience 235

Thinking by Classification and Division 235
A Student Essay Developed by Classification and Division 237
Contents

Writing an Essay Developed by Classification and Division 240
- Create Categories 240
- Arrange and Label Categories 241
- Use Transitions 243

Revising Classification and Division Paragraphs 243
- Guidelines for Writing Classification and Division Essays 245
- Suggestions for Classification and Division Essays 245

CHAPTER 16

Definition: Creating Impressions 248

Thinking by Definition 248

A Student Essay Developed by Definition 250

Writing an Essay Developed by Definition 253
- Determine the Appropriate Type of Definition 253
- Use Extended Definition with Other Development Patterns 257
- Use Transitions 259

Revising Definition Paragraphs 259
- Guidelines for Writing Definition Essays 260
- Suggestions for Extended Definition Essays 261

CHAPTER 17

Reading and Writing an Argument 264

Thinking by Argument 264

Reading an Argument 265
- Identify the Elements of an Argument 265
- Distinguish Fact from Opinion 266
- Evaluate Information 267
- Examine Language 268
- Identify Patterns of Reasoning 269
- Inductive Reasoning 269
- Deductive Reasoning 271
- Identify Logical Fallacies 274

Writing an Essay Developed by Argument 277

A Student Essay Developed by Argument 278
- Establish an Assertion and Provide Evidence 282
- Arrange the Argument Logically 284
- Recognize the Reader 284
- Examine the Argument 285
- Structure Argument Paragraphs 286
- Revising Argument Paragraphs 289
- Guidelines for Writing Argument Essays 291
- Suggestions for Argument Essays 292

PART IV

The Research Essay 297

CHAPTER 18

Finding and Researching a Topic 299

What Is a Research Essay? 299
- Length 300
- Organization 300
- Including Your Own Ideas 301

Getting Started: Find and Narrow a Suitable Topic 302
- Frame a Research Question 302
- Start with a Topic That Interests You 303
Select a Topic That Allows for Discussion 304
Use Library Resources to Find and Narrow a Topic 304
Look for a Topic Online 308

Gather Information on the Research Topic 310
Consult Bibliographies 311
Use Book, Magazine, and Journal Indexes 312
Use Newspaper Indexes 313

Prepare a Working Bibliography 315
Take Notes on Your Research 316
Take Notes Strategically 316
Take Notes with a Purpose in Mind 316
Use Effective Notetaking Methods 318
Avoid Plagiarism 322
Work with a Preliminary Thesis 322

Research Exercises 324

CHAPTER 19
Researching on the Internet 326

Accessing the Internet: Online Is Onboard 326
Using Internet Addresses 326
Researching with URLs 328

Overview of Internet Systems 328
The World Wide Web: Worlds within a World 328
Search Engines: Workhorses of the Web 330
A Sample Search: Locating Internet Sources to Narrow a Topic 334
E-Mail: Electronic Letters 339
Listserves and Mailing Lists: Group E-Mail 342
Usenet/Newsgroups: Posting Information 343

Evaluating Internet Resources: Whom Can You Trust? 344
The Range of Internet Content 345
A Reliability Checklist for Internet Sources 347

Research Activities 348

CHAPTER 20
Writing Your Research Essay: From Planning to Typing the Final Draft 350

Planning Your Essay 350
Use Your Research Notes 350
Review Your Research Question 351
Review Your Preliminary Thesis Statement 351
Devise a Final (Working) Thesis Statement 352
Develop an Outline 352
Use Other Planning Strategies, as Needed 353

Writing Your Essay 353
Write an Effective Introduction 353
Develop a Discussion of the Topic 354
Write a Concluding Paragraph 356

Revise, Edit, and Proofread 357
Revise to Improve Global Qualities 357
Edit for Clarity and Correctness 357
Proofread to Make Minor Corrections 358

Guidelines for Typing Your Research Essay 359
A Student's Research Essay 361

Research Exercises 378
PART VI
Readings for Writers 465

- Maya Angelou, Finishing School 467
- Judy Brady, I Want a Wife 472
- William F. Buckley, Jr., Why Don't We Complain? 475
- K. C. Cole, Entropy 480
- Barbara Ehrenreich, Marginal Men 483
- Gretel Ehrlich, About Men 487
- Stephanie Ericsson, The Ways We Lie 490
- Neal Gabler, How Urban Myths Reveal Society's Fears 495
- Leonce Gaiter, The Revolt of the Black Bourgeoisie 502
- George Gilder, Why Men Marry 506
- Ellen Goodman, Becoming Desensitized to Hate Words 509
- Pete Hamill, Crack and the Box 512
- Stephen King, Why We Crave Horror Movies 517
- Michael Levin, The Case for Torture 520
- William Lutz, Doublespeak 523
- William Ian Miller, Gifts and Honor: An Exchange 528
- George Orwell, A Hanging 534
- Neil Postman, Future Shlock 539
- Francine Prose, Gossip 546
- Tom Regan, Animal Rights, Human Wrongs 549
- Stephen Rose, Proud To Be a Speciesist 554
- George Simpson, The War Room at Bellevue 559
- Brent Staples, Black Men and Public Space 564
- Jonathan Swift, A Modest Proposal 568
- Amy Tan, Mother Tongue 573
- Paul Theroux, Being a Man 580
- Lewis Thomas, On Natural Death 583
- Mark Twain, The Damned Human Race 586
- E. B. White, Once More to the Lake 593
- Marie Winn, TV Addiction 599

PART VII
Handbook 603

Sentence Errors 605

- Sentence Fragments 605
- Run-On Sentences 608
- Subject/Verb Agreement 610
- Verb Tense 615
- Pronoun Case 616
- Pronoun/Antecedent Agreement 621
- Pronoun Reference 623
- Gender-Neutral Language 625
- Reminders for ESL Writers 627

Punctuation 641

- Commas 641
- Semicolons 649